All attendees will receive a personal resource book filled with points of contact (names and phone numbers) for product support information, guidance, and training. Drawing on my umpteen years as an A&P/IA, I'd say my most valuable tool was my Personal Resource Book filled with sources of reliable consultation, guidance, service information, and excellent advice. I fine-tuned it to fit my personal needs. As you continue to develop your personal resource book, it will become an invaluable source of excellent advice and make you look good in your customer's eyes, and you'll learn a great deal.
